

The Game

Autumn, Eve and Matt longed for an adventure. As they walked home from school, they spotted an abandoned orphanage that wasn't there before. "Should we go in?" Said Matt puzzled. Autumn shrugged, she was always careful. As Eve was only 7 she pushed Autumn out of the way and shouted in her squeaky voice "Let's go in, what harm could it do scaredy cat!" Matt muttered "Just the usual sibling argument." Autumn nudged him lightly and said in a dreamy voice " Oh shut up..." They stepped precariously towards it.

Chloe S

Do you ever wonder how the magic objects store first opened? Well your in luck this is the story is how it began.It was a windy day,on November the 5th 1987, the day anything could happen.Heather ,Daniel and their friends were interested.They had found an exquisite discovery that under Daniels house in Britain there was a very secret passageway leading to an attic

Lydia

They rushed outside to the forest they lived next to and started to play. Summer, who was 10 years old, loved adventure and wished for something to happen, Poppy, who was 8 years old, was completely the opposite. It was the summer holidays, the blazing sun shone through the trees, birds cheeped in delight and there was not a cloud in the blue sky.

Megan

A three headed lion came crashing through the wall and a black dragon came bursting through the roof. It's black shadowy eyes searched the room,it's rough scales glinted in the sun and smoke puffed from its nose every breath.

Zac

Suddenly the book started to shake, the Earth started to tremble and the towering trees swayed. Then, out of nowhere, a bloodthirsty cobra appeared! There was a sudden silence. Everybody froze. It started to hiss loudly at the children and fann its skin out as wide as it could.

The silence was broken by the children screaming in horror and running off in different directions.

Charlotte

The two children froze in terror as they watched the Rhino scrap it's hooves on the grass, lowering it's sharp, horny head ready to charge. The Rhino destroyed all the slides and swings in it's sight, while the Rhino ran rampage, Logan had an idea, "So Lorcan, you've got to have luck on this one, we'll run away and then you roll a ten if you can." So then, the duo grabbed the game and ran away from the Rhino.

Logan

"Uh... I'll fight it." said Jade, dubiously walking towards the mysterious ghostly figure slowly drifting out of the book. Whispers filled the air, and she gasped. Then she walked back towards her friends, in a cold sweat. Jasmine and Arabelle looked at each other; they had no idea why the girl nicknamed "Jade the Brave" was coming back. Was she scared for the first time in her life?

Sherri

At that monument the cupboard fell over the window cracked and screams filled the hotel and right in front of their eyes a raptor appeared.

The room froze and they were confused. The raptors teeth shined in the sun and bit the manager's head then his teeth weren't so shiny. Jimmy shouted "RUN"

Xander

At that moment the trees trembled, the tents began to collapse and the sky grew thick with fog. Everyone froze and a silence seeped the forest. Their faces grew a pale white as they felt from beneath them the heavy thud of paws drawing closer and closer...

In a heartbeat a vicious werewolf sprang from the bushes and landed in the centre of the camping site. Everyone stared, too frightened to move. His blood red eyes scanned the faces peeping nervously from their tents, his yellow teeth were bared, his dirty matted fur stood on end, his knife-sharp claws unfurled.

Charlotte

Thanos's golden armour was reflecting in the sun and it was blinding everybody's eyes. Everybody froze. Then the class ran for their lives. Bobby hid in the air conditioner, Zac sprinted outside to the front gate and Phoenix was standing in front of Thanos screaming.

Samuel

Charlotte rushed out of the house with the last box of cherries they offered the food to the kangaroo and waited. The kangaroo sniffed, and gently picked up a cherry "I think it's working" exclaimed Frida, she munched, spat out the pit and swallowed, soon the whole box was gone "I hope she's not aggressive anymore."

Frida

In the corner of Sarah's eye hyenas punched out of a pile of leaves, behind a log, out of the fire, and behind a bush the slobbering jaws facing Sarah And smelly breath from the Heyia getting closer and closer and stronger and stronger.

Lilia

At that moment they were snatching it until... Suddenly the walls started shaking and the room started vibrating and the horns turned black then unexpectedly a black, steady, quick rhino charged through.

Reece

Its legs were as black as ash and firm, as its scarlett eyes full of hatred scanned the room and then coldly locked its gaze on the two girls. "Just don't move" whispered Lily and they were still. Even Willow paused from batting her ball around and stared at the wolf. As quick as a flash the heartless demon wolf lashed out at Lily, "Lily!!!" Natilie screamed as she crumpled in a heap at the demon's wolf's feet, blood in a crimson puddle beside her.

Hannah N